California is responding to the spread of a respiratory illness caused by a new coronavirus (COVID-19). While investigations to learn more about the virus are ongoing, workers and employers should review their health and safety procedures to help prevent exposure to the virus. The EDD provides a variety of support services to individuals affected by COVID-19 in California. For faster and more convenient access to those services, we encourage the use of the above links or visit the EDD online options.

Benefits for workers impacted by COVID-19

- Disability Insurance - Short-term benefit payments to eligible workers who have a full or partial loss of wages due to a non-work-related illness, injury, or pregnancy.
- Paid Family Leave - Up to six weeks of benefit payments to eligible workers who have a full or partial loss of wages because they need time off work to care for a seriously ill family member.
- Unemployment Insurance - Partial wage replacement benefit payments to workers who lose their job or have their hours reduced, through no fault of their own.
- Paid Sick Leave - The leave you have accumulated or your employer has provided to you under the Paid Sick Leave law.
- Workers' Compensation - Benefits include temporary disability (TD) payments, which begin when your doctor says you can't do your usual work for more than three days or you are hospitalized overnight. You may be entitled to TD for up to 104 weeks. TD stops when either you return to work, your doctor releases you for work, or your doctor says your illness has improved as much as it's going to.
